HAPPY EASTER

PASTOR JEREMIAH'S MESSAGE

Mary Magdalene went and announced to the disciples, 'I have seen the Lord'; and she told them that he had said these things to her (John 20:18, NRSV)

I am looking forward, and also looking at where I am right now, as I write this. April is coming, Easter is coming, the season of unending celebration because Christ is alive. The sign that God's love has and will triumph over sin and death. However, as I write this, it's not Easter yet. I have 2 extremely busy weeks ahead of me (as may some of you?) It is not a bright beautiful morning with flowers blooming out the window of the parsonage study. Rather its grey and gloomy and wet, though at least the grass is greening up!

It is all symbolic of where we are as a world on many levels. Christ has come, the world is greening up, but it's not there yet. Spring has started springing, life is coming back. But we all know we might get an April snow yet, it is Northern Illinois after all. The pandemic has lessened in many places, but it's not over yet. Outbreaks all over the world and in places in the U.S. are still happening. Life, blessing, above all love, they show through just as some of the grass is green out my window. But the trees haven't leafed out, the grass isn't all green, and our tulips aren't blooming yet.

In these final days of Lent, (if you are reading this before Easter) we are invited to ponder that, yes, this world needs a Savior. The world was not in Jesus' time, the place God created it to be, and it's not now. We are invited to declutter our hearts, get rid of the bitterness, the greed, the fear of others, the whatever that gets between us and God in these final days of lent (and to keep doing it even after lent.)

While all of the above is vital, we also prepare (or if you are reading this after Easter, do it now) to celebrate the fact that yes, there is brokenness in the world and within us. But God's love in Christ is bringing healing, hope, joy and blessing to all creation. In every moment, the love of God is with us, guiding us and reaching out to us. God in each moment seeks to bless us and calls us to bless others. Jesus lives, "he lives" as the old hymn says, and because he lives, we know that all things are moving towards life, life abundant, and God's love.

So, let us spend the final days of lent, praying for God's wisdom to do what we need to do to declutter our hearts and lives. And let us prepare for a party, a celebration, the joy that Christ is alive. God loves us all, and people can learn to love each other. Amen and Amen!

In Christ,
Pastor Jeremiah

Holy Week Worship Services

HAPPY EASTER

UMC, Franklin Grove UMC, Lee UMC, Lighthouse UMC, Reynolds UMC, Steward UMC, Malta UMC and Rochelle UMC) pastors are putting together “a Living Last Supper” Worship Service, where various people will portray some of Jesus’ followers. You are invited to watch the service online via YouTube or Facebook at your convenience, and then share a meal and some reflection questions with someone you love.

- Friday, April 2, Good Friday - 7:00 p.m. Worship Service: we will have a Good Friday Service of music and scripture, both in person at Malta UMC and on Zoom.
- Sunday, April 4, Easter - 9:00 a.m. Worship Service: Join us for the celebration of Easter, either in person, or via Zoom as we celebrate that Christ rose, and that death and sin are not more powerful than God’s love for us!

The Walk talks about Worship and Prayer and why it’s important to Worship with others and also by yourself. Through prayer we are called to give Thanks, because “everything” in our lives is a wonderful “gift” from God. Study and how important it is to read the Bible everyday and “listen” and “pay attention” to what God is saying to us. Serving – here I am Lord – send me! When God wants something done in the world, He sends humans!!!! When you help others, God blesses you so much more in return. Give – what we do with our money tells us something about the condition of our heart. It is more blessed to give than to receive. Share – our most powerful sermons are those that we preach by our actions, but there are times when we also have to speak. Jesus said, “come follow me and I will show you how to fish for people.” Go and make disciples of all nations.

There is so much more in this book to help you navigate your walk with Jesus. Adam Hamilton makes it an easy way of thinking about our Christian life. He focuses on 5 essential spiritual practices that are rooted in Jesus’ own walk with God. Contact Pastor Jeremiah if you would like to get your own copy of this book “The Walk”.

HAPPY EASTER

2021 RAINBOW COVENANT

Helping you to understand “Giving Apportionments” and how your Giving Apportionments are spent.....

What is Connectional Giving?

Connectional Giving is just what the name implies. As a connected church – the word united is in our very name – we work together to accomplish what could never be done on our own. People today want to know where their gifts go and how the money is managed. When United Methodist give to the church, we have a structure and process that demands the kind of strict accountability one would expect of gifts meant for God’s work in the world. We have a careful process in which United Methodist general funds are apportioned to the conferences and churches. Other special funds come from those participating in Special Sunday Offerings and other second-mile initiatives.

After the general church budget is approved by General Council, the responsibility for raising these funds is divided among annual conferences based on a specific formula. Each annual and central conference, using its own formula, divides these requests, along with conference and administrative fund requests, among its local churches.

In the past, central conferences have supported the Episcopal Fund through their giving. In 2016, the General Conference approved central conference apportionments that will be paid toward the General Administration Fund, Episcopal Fund and World Service Fund. In addition, local churches, districts and annual and central conferences may make monetary gifts to the designated funds and support mission and ministry of special significance to them. Together, apportioned funds and designated funds represent our connectional giving. By combining several small gifts into a larger amount, we can truly effect transformation around the world. We can do more, in the name of Jesus Christ.

APPORTIONED FUNDS

World Service Fund

The World Service Fund is the financial lifeline for core ministries of the United Methodist Church. The 2016 Discipline says that it represents the minimum needs of our general agencies, thus local churches and conferences should regard payment in full as the first benevolent responsibility of the church (Paragraph 812).

The following are just a few of the ministries supported by World Service contributions: building new churches, preparing clergy and lay leaders, increasing the number of young clergy, paying missionary salaries, expanding Bible studies, providing leadership for youth ministry, continuing our proud tradition of cooperation and dialogue with other faith traditions, expressing the church’s commitment to God’s reign through advocacy for peace and justice, encouraging church growth and discipleship, providing theological education for students in central conferences and helping God's children everywhere.

AFRICA UNIVERSITY FUND

This vital fund supports the first fully accredited United Methodist – related education institution on the African continent. It draws students from 25 African countries, providing higher education of excellent quality, enriched with Christian values. Africa University enrolls both women and men, developing visionary leaders for Africa and the world. The university is located in Old Mutare, Zimbabwe. Programs include agriculture and natural resources, education, health sciences, humanities and social sciences, management and administration and theology. The Institute of Peace, Leadership and Governance offers postgraduate diplomas and master's programs. Gifts to the fund support general operating expenses, including faculty and staff salaries and infrastructure. Other donations through World Service Special Gifts support scholarships and the endowment fund.

churches, or Baptists and other denominations, we are organized in a web of churches connecting us in our local area, state, nation, and world. I as your pastor believe deeply in connectionalism. It's part of why I wanted to be United Methodist and not something else. Connectionalism allows for two things that lead me to support it deeply: one, support for the local church, particularly in times of crisis, and two, it allows congregations to pool resources with others and engage in ministries that no local church (no matter how big) could on their own. There are three connectional matters currently that I want to share with you all as part of our congregation.

“HUB CLUSTER”

The first is that we are part of the “Hub Cluster.” Our cluster consists of the churches in and around Rochelle. (Chana, Creston, Franklin Grove, Lee, Lighthouse, Reynolds, Steward, Malta & Rochelle UMC's) These congregations work together to raise money for missions, to hopefully, when we can (after the pandemic) organize a mission trip, and also to work together on worship services and other joint events. Much of this collaboration is done by the clergy, but each church is invited to have a lay representative to the cluster meetings as well. If any of you would be interested in this (the cluster meets maybe 6-8 times a year, via Zoom right now) please let me know. It would be wonderful for us to have a lay person as our representative and to bring back to our church what the cluster is doing and how we can help.

“CONNECTIONALISM”

The United Methodist Church is a connectional denomination. Unlike many independent

MALTA UNITED

METHODIST CHURCH

Northern IL Conference

The second connection matter is our new District. In the interest of saving money and with the advantages and efficiency internet-based communication offers, the Northern Illinois Annual Conference of the United Methodist Church is moving from having 6 districts to 5. Our new district will be called Prairie South, at least for now. Name changes have been suggested, but the district boundaries and churches in it will not change. Honestly, at Malta our new district won't change much for us. It will be largely the churches that were formerly part of the DeKalb district. Some new churches, particularly around Morris, Illinois will be joining our district, as their old district is being dissolved. But to the best of my understanding, this change won't have a large impact on us. But we will as a district be working in partnership with some new churches.

The final connection issue I want to share with you is much more complicated and multilayered. I will try to cover it concisely. Due to differences in biblical interpretation, particularly in how literally one should understand scripture, and in reference to whether it is sinful or not to be Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Transgender, Queer, Intersex, or Asexual (LGBTQIA.), there has been a great divide in the United Methodist Church in recent decades. Our Annual Conference (Northern Illinois) and many others have chosen to welcome LGBTQIA persons, saying they do not need to change their understood sexual or gender identity to be faithful followers of Christ or clergy. (Full disclosure this is also where your pastor faithfully stands on the questions.) Others have taken the stance that anything other than being heterosexual and or celibate is sin, and in their mind and word take a more "orthodox" stand on other issues of biblical interpretation and theology. A group of people who take the second position, folks in the U.S. and other places, have stated they plan to start a new denomination soon. The Global Methodist Church is the name they have chosen. They seek to have the denomination break into to two pieces. Hopefully amicably, but at this time they claim they will break away soon, whether there is an agreement in place or not. (Also, full disclosure I disagree with their theological stands in many places and could not in good conscience be part of their denomination.) The Global Methodist Church is inviting clergy, congregations, and annual conferences to join them. You can read more about them on their website

<https://www.globalmethodist.org/>

When and if a split in the United Methodist Church into at least 2 new denominations will happen, I can't say. However, it is certainly possible that it could happen this year, and I will seek to keep you informed on the situation.

Related to this issue of a possible split is the General Conference of the United Methodist Church, which is the gathering of lay and clergy from all over the world which makes up the deciding body of our denomination. This body was to have met in Minneapolis in 2020, and then the pandemic struck, and there was no way to safely have the body meet. So the General conference was to be moved back to 2022, and there was to be

an online meeting in May this year to handle a few administrative matters (not including a possible split in the church.) However, the bishops of the UMC have decided not to try to have this short online meeting before the main conference in 2022. They have decided this primarily because in some parts of the world the internet needed for such an online event is not available to all the delegates who need to be part of the conference. Also, due to the 16-hour time difference between various members of the conference (we are a global church spread over, as I understand, at least 16 different time zones in this world) it was felt that it would not be possible to meet online. (Again, full disclosure, that makes sense to me. It's important delegates not be disenfranchised!)

So, at this time there won't be a general conference until 2022, and some of the people who want to form the Global Methodist Church may not want to wait till then to break away. We shall see what will happen. In the meantime, there is also discussion on whether or not there will be an election of bishops before 2022. Bishops are elected on a regional basis, so time differences are not much of an issue. For instance, in our jurisdiction (the North Central made up of the churches from Ohio to the Dakotas) there are three time zones, which makes an online meeting complex, but not impossible. The issue of bishop elections does have relevance to Malta. Currently because our former bishop was not allowed to serve beyond the end of her term, we have an interim bishop. If bishop elections happen, we would have a new permanent bishop elected later this year. If elections cannot happen, Bishop Hopkins will remain our interim bishop through at least part of 2022. So again, there are some unknowns and I will pass on information to you as it becomes available.

If you have any questions, concerns, etc. about any of these connectional issue, please shoot me an email, castiger1@gmail.com or call or text me at (815) 592-3764. If you've already had your vaccine and it's been 2 weeks since your last dose, we could even meet face to face. I want to provide any information I can.

Blessings and Peace everyone!

In Christ, Pastor Jeremiah

In the late 15th century, before regular contact between Europeans, Africans, and Native Americans, there were likely 10 million Native Americans living in what is now the U.S. (This is drawn from an average of estimates that range from around 2 million to around 18 million.) By 1890, the population of Native Americans in the U.S. was less than 300,000. A catastrophic drop regardless what number you start from. Many Native American nations had ceased to exist, their language and culture lost forever. Some of this disaster was caused by war and other acts of hostility. Such as seeking to cause famine for Native Peoples, or deliberately spreading disease among them. Many more Native Americans died

due to diseases from across the Atlantic, for which they had no immunity. Not unlike how Europeans died when they moved into tropical areas and frequently got sick. There were other struggles and cruelties inflicted on Native Americans. Particularly attempts to get them to change their culture, trying to coerce them into becoming Christians by withholding food from them, and forcing Native Americans onto reservations that frequently were on poor land where people could not make a good living.

Considering all the damage done to Native Americans by various European nations, the USA, Canada, Mexico, and others, the United Methodist Church remembers Native American Ministry Sunday each year. The history of the people called Methodists with Native Americans is complex. Some Methodists, even at personal cost in finances and risking threats to their lives, did much to help Native Americans seek justice. Seeing it as part of the call to love all our neighbors from Jesus. Other Methodists led militia units that slaughtered peaceful Native American villages; men, women, children, everyone regardless of age. In attempts to help bring healing and health to Native Americans the United Methodist Church has started many ministries in partnership with Native communities all over the U.S.

The special offering we will take on April 18, Native American Ministries Sunday this year, will go to support many types of ministries. Ministries such as schools, community centers, nutrition programs to help elders and children, and various public health initiatives. I (Pastor Jeremiah) encourage you all to read more on the history of the various Native Americans in the U.S., particularly those histories written by Native Americans. Also, if you feel lead by the Holy Spirit, I hope you will join me in supporting this special offering on April 18. Finally, if you won't be in church that day, and want to support this offering you can simply send a check (or money) to the church or directly to Nancy Plote, Finance Secretary, at 411 S. Malta Road, Malta, IL and indicate that the money is for Native American Ministries Sunday.
